FOSSILMANIA is one of Texas' longest running shows dedicated to fossils and everything paleontology. Not a gem and mineral show – FOSSILMANIA is a fossil and paleontology show. Vendors have more than fossils. Vendors have books, apparel, artwork, and other products related to fossils and paleontology.

FREE activities include fossil collecting field trips, a Kid's Corner with hands-on exercises, a guided tour of dinosaur tracks, and a badge workshop for Scouts. FOSSILMANIA is an educational and entertaining event for all ages.

A door prize is awarded every hour. A raffle and a silent auction add excitement to this event. Look for pictures of the raffle items and other activities on the website at dallaspaleo.org/FOSSILMANIA.

PHOTO / VIDEO POLICY: Photography, videography, and/or any means of image and audio capturing/recording of FOSSILMANIA attendees will occur during the event. By entering FOSSILMANIA, attendees, including any minors under their authority, are granting permission to the Dallas Paleontological Society (DPS) and its authorized agents to utilize the stated media for promotional and/or commercial purposes. Purposes include any other transmission or reproduction in whole or in part of FOSSILMANIA attendees and release the DPS from all liability for damages associated with such usage.

KIDS' PIT CREW CORNER

The Kids' PIT Crew Corner is set up in the back corner again this year.

The Paleontologists In Training (PIT) is a program of the DPS that is open to kids from age 7 to 15. If you are interested in fossils, want to have fun on field trips, and like learning about our beautiful world, come join us at one of our meetings, or field trips. You will find it educational, and fun at the same time!

SCOUTS BADGE WORKSHOPS

The PIT Crew (Paleontologists in Training) of the Dallas Paleontological Society offers badge workshops for Girl Scouts and Scouts BSA. From start to finish, join us for a one-stop badge workshop! Fun Patches are available to purchase for all. BSA Wolf Scouts are the only ones with an official badge in Paleontology to earn. Those badges are available through your BSA patch shop. The activity tables are set up for anyone to do a “self-guided” badge workshop. This way, a scout can earn the badge even if they are unable to attend a scheduled workshop. All kids can join in the activities to earn a Fun Patch (available for purchase).

Scouts BSA:

Wolf Cub Scouts can earn the Digging in the past badge in this workshop.

Webelos: Earth Rocks! A Webelos and Arrow of Light badge. Paleontology is a branch of geology, so most of our paleontologists can help answer your geology questions and help you earn your badge!

Girl Scouts:

There are no national Girl Scout badges for paleontology. However, some of the Councils around the Country have created Council’s Own Patches. We will be offering the following workshops to earn a Fun Patch (available to purchase at the event).

Brownies: Dinosaurs, a Council’s Own Patch from the Greater Chicago and Northeast Indiana Council.

Juniors, Cadettes, Seniors, and Ambassadors: Paleontology; Can You Dig It?, a Council’s Own Patch from the Greater Chicago and Northwest Indiana Council.

Badge workshops are self-guided throughout the day.

FOSSIL SWAP

FOSSILMANIA is a wonderful event, with vendors from all over the United States offering fossils from all over the world. But, what about those fossils closer to home? I mean in your home! Like the ones in your closet, on your desk, dresser, bookshelf, in your garage, attic, lawn. They really take over a house in no time.

We've all been there. Too many fossils, too little space, am I right? Or maybe you have an abundance of a specific kind of fossils that you know you really don't need that many of. You are not alone in this. So, you have a bunch of fossils but no desire to make a business of it. Consider joining our first (revived) FOSSILMANIA FOSSIL SWAP.

Here's how it will work, on Saturday and Sunday, Swappers will be in designated spaces in the Expo parking lot. Swappers can buy, sell, or trade fossils among fellow swappers and the public.

We are making the 40th FOSSILMANIA Extra Large by expanding to the parking lot! Having a bustling parking lot full of activity will encourage passersby to go from looky-loo to visitor. Join us, reduce and refresh your collection, and have a great time!

Fossil Swap Information

This swap meet is for the exchange of fossils and paleontology related items only.

- Daily fee – PAY INSIDE: $10 per vehicle per parking space based on first come and availability.

The Dallas Paleontological Society

founded 1984

The Dallas Paleontological Society (aka Dallas Paleo, DPS, the Society) holds meetings on the second Wednesday of each month at 7:30pm at Brookhaven College's Geotechnical Institute in northwest Dallas. Meetings are open to the public in person or on Zoom. Meeting information is posted on the website and in the newsletter.

Memberships levels are single, family, and lifetime.

Membership grants access to non-public information like special field trips. Members get eblasts for upcoming field trips, events, and member relevant information. When field trips have limited capacity, eblasts alert members to the day and time to register. Visit our Membership page to join.

The DPS Hotline lets members call to learn if a field trip, an in-person meeting, or an event is canceled by weather or an unforeseen circumstance. Good to know before leaving the house.

The Fossil Record newsletter is issued monthly by email and posted in the "Members-only Content" portion of the website. A newsletter-only subscription (postal delivery only) is available. The subscription is not a valid membership.

As a 501(c)(3) organization the DPS raises funds through various activities like FOSSILMANIA to establish and maintain an endowment/scholarship fund. The DPS has invested over $39,800 in the future of 57 future paleontologists via the Frank Crane Memorial Scholarship Fund.

Our many Field Trips attract and keep members. Most trips are relatively local. We have traveled to at UT Austin's Vertebrate and Nonvertebrate Labs, and farther to Oklahoma, California, and other states.

The PIT Crew (Paleontologists in Training) reaches out to family members 7-15 years of age. The PIT Crew has activities, field trips, and lessons. The PIT Crew meets at various locations for the convenience of all participants.

The Fossil Bureau of Investigation (FBI)

is a team of volunteers who investigate reported fossil finds by members and the public. Sometimes the FBI is asked to assist with excavations by local museums and universities.

Mineral Wells Fossil Park is the result of a partnership between the Society and the City of Mineral Wells. City-owned land contains abundant Pennsylvanian age fossils available for public collection.

The Texas/Pennsylvanian Fossil Study Group is a special interest group. The group is trying to answer some of the questions about the very diverse fauna found in the Pennsylvanian outcrops in Texas. The group is assembling a comprehensive pictorial guide to help with identifying fossils from this sub-period, parts of which are currently available on the web site. The group meets at U.T. Arlington hosted by Dr. Merlynd Nestell. Dr. Ben Neuman, head of the Biology Department at Texas A&M Texarkana is a major contributor to this group.

The Occasional Papers (OP) contain research by members, independent of formal institutions or guidance. The OPs are not peer reviewed publications.
